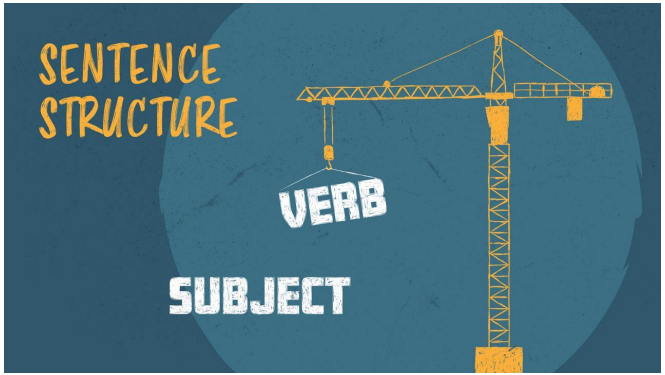
SKILLS | Career Excellence

Understanding Present Continuous Tense



Building Proper Sentences

“Strong Sentences start with simple structure”

Session Agenda

- What is the Present Continuous Tense?
- Affirmative Sentence Structure + Examples
- Negative Sentence Structure + Examples
- Question Form Structure + Examples
- Common Verbs & Typical Mistakes
- Practice Time – Describe What's Happening Now
- Final Takeaways & Fluency Tips

What is Present Continuous Tense?

- Describes actions happening at the moment of speaking
- Also used for temporary actions or future plans

Examples:

- "I am preparing for an interview."
- "She is updating her resume."
- "They are discussing the job opening."

Affirmative Sentences – Structure & Examples

Structure: Subject + am/is/are + verb+ing

Examples:

- "I am researching the company."
- "She is preparing for the HR round."
- "They are reviewing your application."

Use: am (I), is (he/she/it), are (you/we/they)

Negative Sentences – Structure & Examples

Structure: Subject + am/is/are + not + verb+ing

Examples:

- "I am not attending the walk-in today."
- "He is not applying for that role."
- "We are not waiting for the second interview."

Tip: Use contractions: isn't, aren't, I'm not

Questions – Structure & Examples

Structure: Am/Is/Are + subject + verb+ing + “?”

Examples:

- "Are you preparing for the technical round?"
- "Is she attending the interview today?"
- "Am I answering your question clearly?"

Tip: Respond briefly: “Yes, I am.” / “No, she isn’t.”

Common Verbs & Typical Mistakes

- Common verbs: attend, prepare, review, apply, talk, wait

  Mistakes:

  - "She is go to the interview." (Wrong)
  - "They are prepare their answers." (Wrong)

- Corrections:

  - "She is going to the interview."
  - "They are preparing their answers."

Practice Time – Create Your Sentences

- Practice with real scenarios:
  - "I am waiting in the lobby."
  - "He is talking to the HR manager."
  - "They are interviewing candidates now."
- Try creating one sentence for each form: affirmative, negative, and question

Final Takeaways

- Use Present Continuous to sound natural in conversations.
  → Example: “I am working on my portfolio right now.”
- Focus on am/is/are + verb+ing for accurate sentences.
  → Example: “She is preparing for the interview this afternoon.”
- Practice with real job search or interview scenarios to build fluency.

Thanks

!